

Challenge '69 Wins Election Ugly Man to Boost MSC Scholarships

Steve Schottel
President

Vice President

Barb McAvoy
Secretary

Steve Schottel, Vic Jenkins, and Barb McAvoy led the Challenge '69 candidates to an all-group victory in Thursday's student body election. Schottel, Jenkins, and McAvoy running for president, vice president, and secretary-treasurer, defeated their opponents David Hockensmith, Tom Strade, and Barbara Hardy, all running on the United Students Party ticket by tabulations of 996-533, 917-501, and 992-657, respectively. Ted Chandler, presidential candidate, with 88 votes, and Percy Meyers, nominee for vice president, with 263 votes ran on the Organization for Interracial Understanding Ticket, each earning a third place.

The winning candidates expressed their desire to see the student government become a more efficient body next year with more student involvement, which they felt showed as over 1,500 students voted in the election. This is a sizeable figure in comparison to the number of students who have voted in most elections.

According to student body president Mike Wilson the total votes Thursday was an increase of approximately 450 over the number who cast ballots in the 1968 election.

All Challenge '69 candidates running for class officers were successful in their bids for the coming year. Their pictures and positions are shown on page four.

The winners would like to help change certain hours on the campus, including library hours and girls' hours. They believe library hours should be increased to meet the standards desired by the students, and "Key privileges" extended to include junior girls.

They also plan to take steps to improve the parking facilities of the campus.

Another plan they hope to initiate is to improve the motivation of the students by forming a Student Participation Committee. This committee would motivate students to take an active part in the Senate, form opinions, and voice their views on all issues — local, regional, and national.

The parties held activities throughout last week. Monday afternoon the candidates and their platforms were presented to an audience of approximately 60 persons in Horace Mann Auditorium.

The United Students Party sponsored a dance in the Horace Mann parking lot Wednesday evening, and Challenge '69 supporters marched through the campus in a torchlight parade.

The Den was the scene of a Wednesday afternoon open forum where Vic Jenkins, Challenge '69, and David Hockensmith, USP, reiterated their platforms and answered questions.

Parades and signs added to this competition.

Candidates from many groups on campus will be competing this week for the title of Ugly Man on Campus.

The events began last night with a variety show and will continue tomorrow night at 7:30 p. m. in Lamkin Gymnasium with a dance and the Beauty and the Beast Contest. A carnival featuring Johnny Dolan, WHB disc jockey, will start at 7:30 p. m. Friday in Lamkin Gymnasium.

Candidates for Ugly Man, their beauties, and the organizations they represent are Leon Muff, Marsha Mundt, Alpha Kappa Lambda; Mr. V'gi Albertini, Kathy Mitchell, Gamma Sigma Sigma; Mr. Wayne VonZonieren, Gwen Wallace, Delta Zeta; Mr. Clarence Henderson, Jill Jackson, Student National Education Association.

Don Sears, Kay Thomas, Delta Sigma Phi; Dr. Katherine Riddle, Millie Magner, Hudson Hall; Kent Kavanaugh, Dave Rebori, Men's Dorm Council; Bill Lance, Jacqueline Jochims, Tau Kappa Epsilon; Dr. Harlan Higginbotham, Mary Jo Buster, Phi Mu; and Mr. Roger Corley, Debbie Hilgenberg, Alpha Sigma Alpha. Other candidates are John Wilson, Sigma Sigma Sigma; Bonnie Briley, Delta Chi; and a representative of Sigma Tau Gamma to be announced.

The Kaleidoscope of Lincoln, Neb., will be making its debut in this area at the dance. This group has appeared with Mitch Ryder, the Buckingham, the McCoys, and the 1910 Fruit Gum Company. This summer they will appear with Siy and the Family Stone.

Admission to the dance is $1.25 for couples and $.75 for singles. Each ticket is good for one vote in the Beauty and the Beast Contest. The Beauty and the Beast skits will be judged by Mr. Herb Selby, Citizen's State Bank; Mr. Charles Hasty, Nodaway Valley Bank; and Mrs. Alice Gray.

The carnival will open at 7:30 p. m., Friday in Lamkin Gymnasium. Johnny Dolan will be there to emcee, conduct a record hop after the carnival, and give away gift certificates from Maryville business firms.

To be given away are five-dollar gift certificates from Livingston's Clothing

Education Instructors Assist at Conference

Three MSC instructors in the Division of Education, Miss Neva Ross, Miss Kathryn McKee, and Miss Anna Gorsuch, were among the 2,172 educators who attended the annual Study Conference of the Association for Childhood Education International at Houston, Tex., last week.

Miss McKee was chairman of one of the interest groups. Miss Gorsuch, president of the Northwest Missouri Adult Branch, served as a consultant for one of the 50 study group sections.

Miss Ross, a past vice president of the Association and lifetime member of the Advisory Board, was an assistant leader for one of the study groups and served on the Constitution Committee.

Among the various activities was a visit to the famous Houston schools.

University Professor to Talk At AAUP Dinner Meeting

Professor William P. Murphy, of the University of Missouri Law School staff, will be the guest speaker at a dinner meeting of AAUP Thursday at 6:30 p. m. in the Union.

Mr. Murphy is the representative of this AAUP district on the national council. He will answer questions concerning the national organization and legislation as it affects higher education in Missouri.

Mr. James DeMarce will preside at the dinner meeting.

At a special meeting last week, the chapter approved a plan for recognizing outstanding students. Miss Mary Jackson and Mr. Richard Landes will arrange for the hanging of a scholarship plaque in the MSC halls on which the name of the leading scholar in each class will be inscribed. Honor certificates will be presented to the highest ranking students in each class at the annual Honors Assembly.

Mr. Ronnie Moss was elected vice president and Miss Jane Costello secretary of the chapter for the next biennium.

Science Students Receive Awards

Four NWMSC students have received stipends for study in medical technology and nursing for the coming summer and fall terms.

Miss Carol Copeland, Wauke, Iowa, a senior in medical technology, will intern at Iowa Methodist Hospital in Des Moines, Iowa. She received a $70 per month stipend beginning in July. Miss Copeland is a member of Phi Mu Fraternity and will graduate with a BS in medical technology in 1970.

Recipient of a $100 per month stipend is Miss Vicki Olson, Council Bluffs, Iowa. She will intern at St. Joseph's Hospital in Joliet, Ill., in July. Miss Olson is a member of Pre-Med Club and is a junior medical technology major who plans to graduate in 1970.

Miss Cheryl Lykins, Albany, was awarded a $100 per month stipend at St. Luke's Hospital in Kansas City. A junior majoring in medical technology, Miss Lykins is a member of Sigma Sigma Sorority and Pre-Med Club.

Miss Elizabeth Woody, St. Joseph, will intern in September at the Kansas University Medical Center in the School of Nursing. She is one of the first MSC students to be admitted to the school. Miss Woody, a junior, is a member of Pre-Med Club.

Chairman Announces Homecoming Meeting

Representatives from campus organizations which plan to participate in Homecoming next year will have a meeting at 5 p. m. Thursday in Room 213, Colden Hall.

At this time a theme will be selected, and the student co-chairmen will be announced.

Mr. Dean Savage, instructor in the Division of Education, is the faculty chairman.

Elizabeth Woody, Carol Copeland, and Vicki Olson discuss their awards for further study in medical technology and nursing. Also recipient of an award was Cheryl Lykins, absent from photograph.

You Must Answer

Student body and class officers were elected last week. What does that mean to you?

For a week's time, students campaigned on each party's platforms. Posters were posted. Speeches were spoken. Friends were befriended. What did this mean to you?

Newly elected officers will begin their term of office with the fall semester of 1969. What will this mean to you?

In answer to the first question, election of officers often means only that spring is here, and school will soon be out for summer vacation.

"Very little" will probably answer the second question. The posters were attractive, something "new and different" to look at. The speeches were rarely heard and, if heard, seldom listened to. The attempt to gain votes was weak but sufficient to convince uninformed and uninterested students of the benefits of each "candi-

The third question can and must be answered solely by you! What did the election mean to you? Will you ever hear again of the class officers you elected? For that matter, do we even need class officers? Do you remember the platform of the recently chosen student body leader? Do you understand it? Will the election of these students give too much power to one group or organization of students? Do you know what organization backed your candidate?

Do you even recall for whom you voted?

MSC students need to study — yes, study — the activities of last week. Aren't we wasting valuable time and effort? Can't we make these campus elections have a more powerful effect on students and campus relations?

Can't we make them mean something to you?

— Linda Bennett

Era of Permissiveness?

"Education is the cornerstone of all social and economic growth. It is the passport of each individual to his individual success. And, it is our only hope we have for preserving and protecting our system of democracy." Wisconsin Gov. Warren Knowles — U. S. News and World Report, Mar. 3, 1969.

University of Illinois, Harvard, Duke, San Francisco State, Chicago University . . . the list of campuses hit by widespread violence and internal upheaval is seemingly endless. . . . Disruption of classes; destruction of property. . . . Americans have always been dissenters — It is one reason we are a free people. In the past, however, there has usually been a fairly valid reason for dissent. Think for a moment if you can recall the reasons for violence on the above mentioned campuses. What were they? If you are like me, the only thing that strikes a vivid note is the rioting itself. Screaming, hysterical voices, wild, untamed hair, and mouths unleashing their vocabulary of four-letter words in an obvious effort to establish their superior intellect and rationale.

We can further recall mention of Paris, Rome, and Prague. Students everywhere are dissatisfied with conditions as they are and are seemingly not afraid to stand up and be counted. Hurrah for us! We're not like our parents. We won't stand for people infringing on our rights. Who are these people anyway? Teachers, policemen, judges, veterans of foreign wars. . . . We're the new generation! We care! It's our right to dissent, to disrupt things as they are. Isn't society corrupt and hypocritical? Doesn't it deserve to hear from us?

All students should stand up and give the old Establishment a blast in their ears; tell them what's wrong.

Last week a real dissenter came on campus with some really revolutionary ideas. I guess she's been on a lot of those other campuses offering students enrolled there a chance to really show the Establishment that we know what's coming off. She didn't create a stir — at least I haven't read of it in the papers. It seems she has some stupid idea about action: You know like showing others we care and are willing to stand up and be counted.

She was a Peace Corps representative. I wonder if she stirred us. I just wonder. . .

What's Your UQ

About Pre-Registration?

The old gripe of the MSC student—"We want pre-registration,"—has been backed by the administration for quite some time. Before another student criticizes, he might well do some research.

The administration has already asked the Missouri Legislature for a staff for pre-registration, according to Dr. Charles Thate, dean of administration, and has appointed Mr. John Mobley to serve as director of a proposed Academic Advisement Center. The staff would include five or six full time employed advisers plus the director. The administration is now in the process of selecting a staff for the time when the program is ready to be initiated.

Complete computerized pre-registration in a school this large would require more advanced equipment than the basic computer set up that is now available. Another requisite would be the understanding of the system and equipment by the students as well as the faculty.

Are students ready for this change? Just what is their Understanding Quotient about this often discussed subject?

In many colleges there is rebellion against this impersonal enrollment system. "We are just a number" is a common criticism from the student. True, there would be no prejudices from the computer, but neither would there be any bending backwards to give the students the classes they need.

Pre-registration is not going to solve all the problems in scheduling. It's not going to eliminate not being able to get needed classes. It can't open closed classes or start more.

Computers can only be programmed for a certain number of variables. They will give the classes desired in most cases, but without the students' having any choice in time and instructor.

The program to be started here will not be a total computer pre-registration. There will be an advisory center to pre-register freshmen and sophomores and advisers to pre-register the juniors and seniors. Forms will be provided for the students to indicate classes they want. Computers will help make schedules for most of the students. Then an adviser will take over. With this system it will be possible to register one semester ahead of time.

Dr. Thate sees "a definite possibility for the pre-registration program to be instituted here next fall for the spring semester."

"Hey, Eddie, what's happening this weekend?"

"Man, I don't know, but I'm going home."

"Going home? You've got to be kidding! I thought you had this thing against suitcases?"

"I did, but last weekend finished me."

"What happened?"

"It's a long story, but the short of it is I sat around last Friday afternoon waiting to call a girl, but the phone was busy."

"So . . . it happens all the time."

"I know, but I called at four, five, five-thirty, six, six-thirty and finally decided I'd go over to the dorm. When I got there the girl I'd been trying to call had gone home."

"You should have tried a couple of the other dorms."

"I did but the phones were all busy everytime I called."

"Well, you must admit, Eddie, you should have tried a day or two in advance."

"Look, man, I tried when I could, which was usually between five and eight p. m. I just never got through. So being a little depressed and more than a little teed-off, I went to each dorm and found out how many people they had and the number of phones. Do you want to hear the results?"

"Go ahead, but I think you're exaggerating the whole thing."

"Exaggerating, am I? Well here's a couple of "for instances": Hudson Hall now has eight phones for 549 girls, which leaves one phone per 68.6 girls. This was recently improved from the 137.2 a month ago. Roberta has 54 girls per phone, not counting the sorority annex phones. Franken has 57 people per phone, and Perrin has the campus low of 49 per person. This isn't what I would call good odds even with the new phones."

"Say, you have got a point there, Eddie. I never thought of it that way."

"Well, Homer, what are you going to do this weekend?"

"Well I thought I'd call up . . . Hey Eddie, have you got room in your car for me? I think I'll go home this weekend, too."

To Live in Streets?

Maryville has a housing shortage. That is a fact that will not surprise many married students or college instructors. What, if anything, can or should be done about it?

First of all, to give an idea of what the town has to offer, here are samples of prospective homes for would-be residents: There are various apartment buildings, some close to campus, some not, one main one (containing mostly students) which is little more than a coeducational dormitory; another one with paper walls complete with feuding neighbors, and others that are almost too old or shabby to mention.

Those not wishing to live quite as close to their neighbors and who have the extra funds, live in houses. This is a luxury afforded mostly by teachers — that is, if they can find a house. Finding a desirable one at a reasonable rent fee is unlikely, unless the home-hunters do not mind living 15 miles away in the country or in a ram-shackle box.

Then there are the trailers. These are possibly the most satisfactory for husbands and wives only, since they are too small for growing families. The prohibitive factor is the cost. Besides the initial purchase price and insurance, one must rent the land and pay for utilities, which can run into a sizable sum of money each month.

For as many married students as there are, to say nothing of the increasing number of instructors, it seems strange that the college and townspeople, so far, have done little about the housing problem. A recent town newspaper article pointed out that suggestions have been made to the Chamber of Commerce concerning a remedy. However, no observable action has been started.

Before action is begun, one question to be asked is: "Is it the college's responsibility to provide housing?" Perhaps not, technically, but in order for the town and the school to keep growing, surely some provisions must be made.

Of course, one of the main obstacles to owning homes in Maryville is the cost. College students do not generally have an abundance of capital. If there is some way to provide low-cost housing, perhaps more qualified personnel and more married students would be willing to make Maryville their home.

The inevitable fact remains — if there are not adequate living quarters, the prospect of living in Maryville looks bleak.

Summer Publications Workshop To Include 3 Areas of Training

A two week three-way training program will be offered to college students and high school teachers and their staff leaders in the eighth annual summer publications workshop, beginning June 10.

A newspaper and photography section will make up the program the first week. Among the guest lecturers for this phase of the workshop are Mr. Victor Buntz, instructor at Oregon High School, who will teach photography; Mrs. David Dial, graduate of the University of Missouri School of Journalism, who will teach special lessons such as editorial writing, polling techniques and reports, and review writing; and Mr. Bob Cobb, instructor of journalism at Odesa High School and former sports editor of the Northwest Missourian, who will direct sports writing classes.

Bob Nelson, Anita, Iowa, will be the student assistant for the laboratory work in photography.

Yearbooks will be the main topic for the second week of the workshop. Various guest speakers will assist during the week. During both weeks, workshop classes will be scheduled in the mornings with laboratory sessions held in the afternoons.

College students may receive training for teaching high school publications. They will receive two credit hours for their work. English - journalism enrollees may count their participation in the workshop as an elective on their major.

College graduates may arrange with Dr. Frank Grube, overall supervisor of the workshop and chairman of the Division of Language and Literature, to do a special research project in some journalism field of their interest to earn graduate credit. Mrs. T. H. Eckert, adviser of English-journalism majors, will coordinate the workshop activities.

The workshop will be open to high school teachers and their publication staff leaders. The high school students will receive certificates for their completed work. High school instructors may use the workshop credit to help meet the new standards set up by the Missouri State Department of Education for 1970 publications teachers.

MSC Coeds Attend Springfield Conference

Fifteen MSC coeds attended a home economics conference last weekend at Springfield.

Speeches concerning family life, teenagers, and decisions facing college-age students were delivered. Tours were made into the "Shepherd of the Hills" Country and the School of the Ozarks.

President Stan Wright Envisions More Student Involvement at Union

So the Union Program Council has a new president. Just who is Stan Wright? Does he know what he's doing? Many students who are aware of Wright's past services at MSC believe the job couldn't be in better hands.

A junior from Craig, Wright has been involved with Union Board since his freshman year. As a sophomore, he was selected by the Union Board executive council for a committee co-chairmanship. Under his direction, the Board contracted the controversial speakers and film series which have been featured this year.

After the selection of new chairmen earlier this year, Wright was moved to Committee No. 3, in charge of Fine Arts. In this new capacity, he worked to coordinate the Den Movies and the Tower Dance.

Well, now that he has the job of president, what is he going to do?

"Right now our big project is Walk Out Day. We plan to have some new events, and the concert and dance will feature some really big name groups," Wright revealed.

In long range plans for next year, Wright has some definite ideas.

"My goal is to get more students involved in Union Board from committee member level on up. We have been furnished with even more money for next year so can do a lot more. Plans are already being formulated concerning the concerts, speakers, films, exhibits and special events for the summer and next fall. The great job done by John Price will be hard to equal, but I'm going to try my best to beat it."

Finally, Wright commented that the best way for students to voice their opinions about the programming at MSC is to join a Union Board committee and take an active role in the planning and supervising of events.

In addition to his activities on Union Board, Wright is a member of Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity and Blue Key.

Other newly elected members of the Union Board Executive Council are Bob Burrell and Jim Gay, vice presidents, and Karen Halbert, secretary.

Delta Taus Start Tours

The Delta Tau Alpha Chapter will start a tour of area high schools to speak to classes and FFA Chapters about MSC in general, according to Barry Whitehill, president.

The members will give a slide presentation of the college buildings and answer questions pertaining to college life.

Dr. John C. Beeks Listed in 'Who's Who'

Dr. John C. Beeks, chairman of the department of agriculture, has been cited in the 1969 Volume of Who's Who in the Midwest.

Dr. Beeks, also recognized in the Who's Who in American Scientists, is a member of the Alpha Tau Alpha, Gamma Sigma Delta, and Delta Tau Alpha honorary fraternities and is an honorary State Farmer of Missouri.

Dr. Beeks received his bachelor of science, master of education, and doctor of education degrees at the University of Missouri. He came to MSC in 1954 from Stanberry High School. He has written "Nitrates in Well Water in Nodaway County" and various other journal publications.

Dr. Beeks belongs to many organizations including National Association of College Teachers in Agriculture, Pi Delta Kappa, Soil Science Society of America, Crop Science of America, Missouri Academy of Science, Lions Club, and Masonic Lodge. He has traveled extensively through the United States, Canada, and Europe. He is a member of the Methodist Church.

Spanish Majors From MSC To Attend Mexican College

This summer, from July 13 to Aug. 20, four MSC Spanish majors will attend Monterrey Tec Summer School in Monterrey, N. L., Mexico.

The program, first initiated in 1965, allows any interested student to attend one of the leading universities in Mexico. This year Susan Henderson, senior, Wanda Weldon, junior, Susan Sjolun, junior, and Dana Winn, sophomore, will further their Spanish programs in a native environment.

The institute is divided into nine schools, which include a summer school emphasizing Spanish. Since it is a member of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools of the United States, there is no question about transferring credits.

Miss Winn, who attended the session last summer, will return this year as a counselor. She was impressed by the social activities as well as the classes. Bullfights, side trips to Mexico City, Mexican dances, formal parties, and trips to downtown Monterrey were a few of her many experiences.

A maximum of six hours may be taken during the summer. The MSC group will leave July 11, traveling to Mexico with Kirksville students. Approximately 1,000 other students from the United States will attend.

Anyone interested in going should contact Miss Jackson in Room 205 Colden Hall this week.

Master's Degree Offered in Reading

The Education Department is offering a new master's degree program this year involving specialization in reading.

Dr. Dean Savage, Dr. James Gleason, and Miss Jane Costello assisted by Dr. Leon Miller, dean of instruction, composed the committee which drew up the plans for the program with the idea in mind, said Dr. Savage, "to provide a service in which teachers from public schools can get help in working with students in reading disabilities, and to provide more qualified teachers to work in remedial and developmental public schools.

There are eight graduate requirement courses offered. As a result, a new reading center has been started on the ground floor of Colden Hall where graduate students will work in diagnosing reading problems and will develop teaching skills in reading.

On The Success Line With MSC Alumni

Larry A. Dean, recent MSC graduate, has been chosen to participate in the Summer Institute for Earth Science Teachers at Iowa State University. This program is designed to give valuable field experience to secondary school science teachers who lack this training.

Challenge Slate Gets Class Posts

Challenge '69 candidates were elected to fill all twelve of the class office positions for the coming year. The winners are as follows:

The Rounds and the Mitchells to Present Recital

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Mitchell and Mr. and Mrs. Ward Rounds, seated at the piano, prepare for their recital to be presented this evening. This is one of a series of faculty recitals to be performed.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Mitchell and Mr. and Mrs. Ward Rounds will present a recital at 8 p. m. tonight in the Charles Johnson Theater.

Mr. Rounds, who teaches brass and percussion at NWMSC and also is director of the college band, will play "Sonatine" by Jean Francaix, a work in three movements, and "Praeludium, Fugue and Postludium" by Zbienen. Mr. Rounds enjoyed a sabbatical at Columbia University, New York City, during the '67-68 school year where he continued his trumpet study with Edward Treutel, a member of the Julliard faculty.

Completing her third year of instruction at MSC, Mrs. Rounds teaches applied piano and organ. She will perform Prokofiev's "Sonata No. 3," a sonata in one movement, and "Presto in B flat" by Poulenc. Mrs. Rounds received her Master of Music degree at the Eastman School of Music with performance emphasis in piano. She is the organist at Hope Lutheran Church.

For her part of the recital, Mrs. Mitchell, director of vocal music at Maryville Junior and Senior High Schools, will sing a group of songs by Berlioz and the well-known aria "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice." Mrs. Mitchell attended the University of Tulsa for three and a half years and finished her bachelor's degree at NWMSC. She has studied with Louis Cunningham and Berton Coffin at the University of Colorado.

Music Department to Present Choral Concert and Cantata

The MSC Music Department will present the College Chorus, assisted by the Opera Workshop and Fairfax High School Chorus, in a choral concert at 8 p. m. April 28 in the Charles Johnson Theater.

The program will be presented in four sections, beginning with three selections by the College Chorus under the direction of Mr. Gilbert Whitney. The chorus will sing "Let All the Nations Praise the Lord" by Leising, "Credo (The Niocene Creed)" by Gretchaninoff, and "Psalm 92" by Christiansen.

The Opera Workshop will perform a scene from the comedy "The Old Man and the Thief" by Carlo Menotti. Roles will be sung by Connie Clark, Audrey Thompson, and Peggy Clausen, mezzo sopranos, and Hugh Campbell, baritone. They will be accompanied by Richard Walton.

Sigmund Bonebrake, a speech and drama student, will provide special lighting effects to strengthen the visual picture of the music.

The Fairfax High School Chorus, under the direction of Mr. Ken Bittiker, music instructor, will sing a medley of American folk songs.

After a brief intermission, the College Chorus and the Fairfax Chorus will present, as a finale, the cantata "I Hear America Singing" by George Kleinsinger. Mr. Bittiker will be the featured soloist. The cantata is based on Walt Whitman's poem of the same title and is a musical ode to democracy.

MSC Choir Performs For Colorado Alumni

The MSC Tower Choir, under the direction of Mr. Byron Mitchell, presented a concert April 11 at the Voyager Restaurant in Denver, Colo., for the Colorado chapter of the MSC Alumni Association.

The program presented by the forty-member choir included a collection of love songs, spirituals, and sacred compositions.

As a side-light of the trip, the group took a tour of the mountain region around Denver.

Mr. Robert Cotter, alumni relations director, and Mrs. Cotter accompanied the group on the four-day bus trip.

Teachers Offered Workshop: 'Man in Sea; Man in Space'

"The teacher is the last one to land on the moon, to fly, or explore the sea, although he is the first one to be called on to communicate these phenomena to future generations."

"This is a real crime," believes Mr. Robert Bush, an instructor of MSC's new graduate course designed to give teachers personal experiences with the challenges of space and sea exploration.

"Man in Sea; Man in Space," as the program is entitled, will be launched on July 7 and will be due for successful landing on July 30.

The program is headed by Dr. James Gleason. Mr. John Mobley will also instruct the teacher participants from both elementary and secondary levels.

Pre-registration is required for the three - credit - hour course. Maximum enrollment is set at 30, with a May 15 deadline for application.

The course is planned to draw a parallel between the sea and space aspects of science. Through this study, teachers can be motivated to become more involved in their teaching of science and add credibility to their teaching through workshop experiences, Mr. Bush stated.

The first week of the workshop is to be held in the Garrett - Strong Science Building. The major topic of study will be the physiology of man's travel in space. The airplane will serve as a teaching device as participants work with food preparations for space travel and build and fire model airplanes.

During the second week, Navy aquanauts will be the subject of concentration in the study of the physiology of living in the sea. These sessions will include scuba diving in the college pool.

A field trip to Oklahoma City will be co-sponsored by the Civil Air Patrol and the Navy during the third week of the workshop.

Students will tour the Federal Aviation Agency's test flight and physiological training facility. Actual experience in the altitude chamber will be experienced.

The group will continue on to Houston, Tex., to the National Aeronautics Space Agency's Man Spacecraft Center. The United States' first landing on the moon is scheduled for approximately the same time as their Houston visit, making this tour particularly valuable to the group.

En route to their next stop in San Diego, Cal., the travelers will hear a geology lecture concerning the Southwest, given by NASA geologists using the past Gemini photos.

Lockheed and General Electric Deep Submergence Facilities will be visited in San Diego. Before returning to MSC, the class will stop at Scripps Institute where Navy Aquanauts are trained.

During the two final days, one and one-half day cruises will be scheduled with oceanographers, depending on arrangements that can be made with the Navy.

Mr. Bush pointed out that the committees believe the seminar will be the first program of this type in the Midwest that has included oceanography.

The workshop will be planned on the principle that if the student knows about some phase of the course, he can pass it by advancing to the next step.

"This can be used as a tool to evaluate what the student and teacher are accomplishing," Mr. Bush explained.

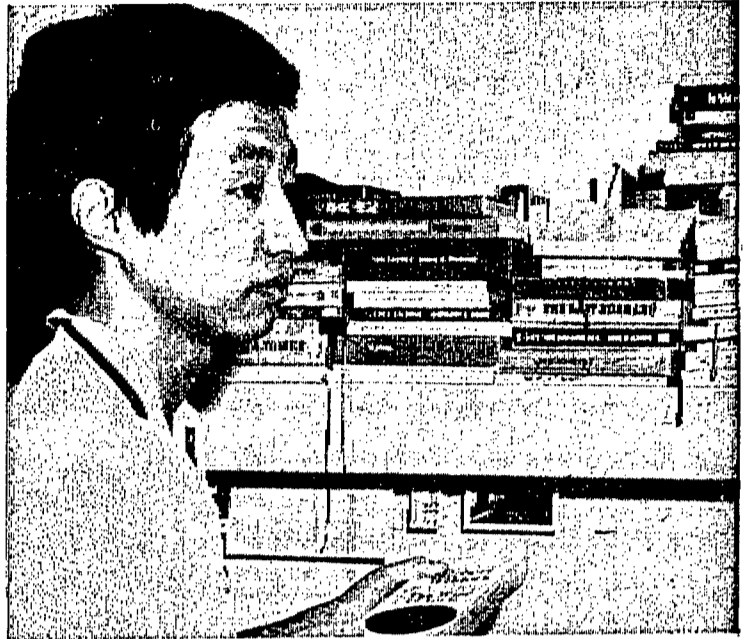

Mr. Bush has previously worked for NASA in the Educational Programs Division, dealing with teacher workshops oriented toward the study of space.

Ag Club Builds Arena For Livestock Shows

The Agriculture Club of MSC is planning to start construction on a rodeo and stock show arena located west of the new dormitories.

The project is to start this week and to be finished by the end of the month. It will be 120 x 240 ft. to reach Rodeo Cowboy's Association's standards. Money for the project will come from their annual horse show, which will be held in the new arena, and from payment for grading the Annual FFA Contest in the past years.

Writing Poetry, Fiction Heads Japanese Student's Enjoyed List

Kenichi Moriguchi's interest in literature is expressed as he is shown here with part of his book collection.

What is so unique about a Japanese student? Perhaps some people see him as unique because they know very little of the history of Oriental societies.

This, in essence, is a belief that Kenichi Moriguchi, an MSC student from Japan, brought out in a recent interview.

Kenichi came to the United States four years ago to study English literature. He first attended a junior college at Fort Scott, Kan., and transferred to MSC two years ago.

After graduation this semester, he plans to "goof around for a while." Possibly he will go back to Japan to visit his parents, who are commercial printers, before going to Sweden to study at Lund University.

Kenichi's interest in literature is a two-way affair — his studying and his writing poetry and fiction. He says that he writes whatever comes into his mind but that first he must be inspired. He eventually hopes to write some short stories and possibly a novel or two. Among contemporary authors he lists James Dickey as his favorite poet and John Dos Passos as his favorite novelist.

Kenichi also takes an interest in campus politics. He believes that there are too many rules and regulations in dormitory living. He also said that improvements could be made in other areas. For example, more money could be spent on purchasing books for the library, and the English department could be improved by offering more courses in contemporary literature. Other changes could be made on the general requirements to include courses of world history, he added.

Kenichi acknowledges that the hardest thing he has had to get used to, excluding the language difficulties, has been trying to tell people about his country when the people don't even know in what country Hong Kong is located (or that it is a British crown colony).

Baird, Schaflander to Speak On Birth Control, Integration

Bill Baird, founder and current director of the New York Parents' Aid Society, and Gerald M. Schaflander, author of "Ghetto Crisis" and a sociology professor at Boston University, will be presented by the Union Board at 7 p. m. and 4 p. m., respectively, today in the Union Ballroom in a continuation of the Controversial Speakers series.

Mr. Bill Baird

Mr. Baird will speak on overpopulation, birth control, and abortion with a stated desire to reduce the anguish and suffering of students and others who lack adequate information about birth control.

Known to be an instructive and inspiring speaker, this man has drawn capacity crowds of more than 2,500. He has received standing ovations in several colleges and universities across the nation, including Harvard, Simmons, M. I. T., Boston College, Lehigh, and Columbia.

Not only deemed by a Boston University as "The best speaker we've ever had," but as one faculty member wrote, "This is a great man. . . only once in a lifetime does someone come along with the wisdom and selfless dedication of a Bill Baird."

Professor Gerald M. Schaflander, a native of Detroit, Mich., is committed both in theory and practice, to the ideal of black-white integration.

He was one of the key figures in the Bedford-Stuyvesant Urban Renewal program in New York City and has worked with Black Nationalists, CORE and the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee.

Mr. Schaflander is not satisfied nor convinced by the empty rhetoric of left-radicals and militant black nationalists, by the false - hope preached by "well-meaning" liberals or the inherent policies of segregation in the program of right wing conservatives.

He has taught as a lecturer at Northeastern University, Boston in introductory sociology as well as being an instructor at Brooklyn College, NYC, and Boston University.

Also teaching at the NDEA Summer Institute in Roxbury Ghetto of Boston where his students included licensed white teachers and black community personnel being trained to work as partners, Professor Schaflander is a board member of S. A. N. E. (Sane Nuclear Policy Committee), a member of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference under the direction of the late Rev. Martin Luther King and was an organizer of Civil Rights voters project in West Tennessee and Mississippi.

Among The Birches

By Bill Musgrave

Well, the campaigns and elections are over, and you all know what that means. . . .

Several innovations were put into effect this year. Probably one of the most surprising was the mere fact that there was a political campaign with real live platforms and everything.

After attending the campaign speeches last week in Horace Mann auditorium, I recalled that age old question: Does a tree crashing to the ground in a forest make a sound if there is no one there to hear it?

The financing of this year's political campaigns was rather unique. One party had a dance. Not what one could call an inaugural ball, but still, a dance. Another party showed its industriousness by the construction of a derrick in the college pond. I don't know what they expected to find, but I'm sure they didn't have to worry about polluting the water if a line broke.

If they did happen to strike oil, however, the party involved must have burned up all its profits in its fiery display of unity. It should be noted that members of another party have nothing to worry about. Scare tactics of a similar nature were outlawed years ago.

If anyone listened to the campus radio station last week, he knows that a certain party claimed it was the party with a pledge. But, it seems that another party had one, too.

In true Stroller Spirit, the question arises what "election results" would appear if students polled their opinion as to the date set for Walk Out Day. . . .

The battle of the sexes is an age old event, but the Stroller feels one biology teacher's wife has it pretty rough. In the middle of their first kiss, this ambitious science instructor interrupted his activities to go in search of an illusive night owl. . . .

The Stroller learned of a recently intended panty raid on Franken Hall. Unfortunately, while seeking reinforcements from the other men's dorms, the would-be-raiders encountered one campus police car and Dean Bruce Wake. . . .

Sauntering by the tennis courts a few days ago, this inquisitive reporter was pleased to see a well-known English professor "batting the ball" about. As his opponent trotted to the far court, he called over his shoulder, "O. K.; pour it on, Doc". . . .

During the last minute effort to include the late tennis results along with the spot pictures last week, a mistake was made in naming one of the players.

The players themselves took it in good stride. As overheard by this long-nosed reporter, the one pictured, but not named quipped, "The reason was because the guy who was named was too ugly." The retort from the mispictured was that the guy photographed "wasn't famous enough to use his own name."

Senate Suspends 'Laws' To Pass Amendment Changing Eligibility

Students who will be classified as juniors or seniors by college requirements at the time of taking office were made eligible to run for student body office in an emergency Student Senate meeting Wednesday night.

The amendment was passed under a temporary suspension of the by-laws. The measure could not have been acted upon until the next regular meeting under the Senate constitution.

President Mike Wilson called for careful consideration of the matter. Circumstances involving the eligibility of two nominees in this year's student body elections, Ted Chandler and Vic Jenkins, were carefully reviewed and the two were asked by the Senate to make statements concerning their candidacy.

Chandler, after learning his present classification would not meet the eligibility requirements before the Wednesday night meeting, had agreed to withdraw as a nominee. After the change, his name was placed back on the ballot.

The proposed amendment was passed by a three-fourths vote of the Senate only after a revote was called for, asking Senators not to abstain from voting.

As Walk Out Day draws closer, my mind starts to wander. Can one truly comprehend the gloriousness of the occasion when this annual day of festivities will be announced throughout the countryside by tolling of bells housed in a magnificent pinnacle known across the nation as a landmark dedicated to truth and freedom?

Delta Taus to Attend National Convention

Delta Tau Alpha members will travel to Southwest Missouri State College in Springfield for their national meeting April 27, 28, and 29.

The honorary agriculture students will elect new officers and report chapter activities. Dr. William C. George will accompany them on the trip.

Final Exams:

Is 'Cramming' A Necessity?

Students deserve the right to request a "dead" week before final examinations in order to achieve the height of their ability on tests.

My definition of a "dead" week is that it is a period in which students would be expected to attend classes as usual, but they would face no tests during the week preceding finals. This free time, which would ordinarily be utilized to study for last minute tests, could be used instead as time to study ahead for finals and alleviate the process of "cramming."

If a student, for example, is in need of a satisfactory or high grade in a certain course, a full week of study instead of cramming would offer him a better chance for obtaining the desired grade.

Tests have shown that more information can be retained longer if small amounts are learned over a long period of time than if a large amount is to be learned during a short duration. In Psychology: An Introduction to a Behavioral Science, the statement is made that "distributed practice is more efficient than massed practice."

I feel it is unfair to expect a person to continue studying in a conscientious manner for a final exam in one course when last minute tests which are not final exams may block his path of acquiring concentrated knowledge.

A Tribute to MSC's Champion Wrestler

Paul Stehman

"He is the finest young man I've ever coached. Seldom do you find a person with such discipline and dedication. He is the kind of person that could be counted on at any time regardless of the challenge you face him with. I think he is the best respected and most dedicated athlete that Northwest Missouri State College has ever had."

These were the words used by wrestling coach Gary Collins to describe Paul Stehman, the wrestler who brought MSC its first National Championship in college wrestling and the second ever won in the state of Missouri.

Stehman, who is from Mt. Joy, Pa., established a brilliant record at MSC. For example, he is co-captain of both the football and wrestling teams this year. While a freshman he had a 3-0 wrestling record. As a sophomore he was 17-6; in his junior year 20-5, and this year, 22-3. These total up to the impressive 62-14 college career record, with 30 of these wins coming via pins.

The title winner placed in the National Tournament three times, was three-time Graceland Tournament's Outstanding Wrestler, was three-time NWMSC Champ and Outstanding Wrestler once, three-time MIAA Champ and was picked the tournament's Outstanding Wrestler this year. This past weekend he received MSC's Most Valuable Wrestler Award. That lists some of Paul's bigger achievements at MSC.

Assistant Coach Gerald Landwer had these comments: "Considering all things — wrestling ability, leadership, dedication to the sport, and competitive spirit — Paul has been outstanding in each. He is the best I have ever coached. He was never afraid to put his record on the line for the benefit of the team. For example, while at MSC, Stehman wrestled from 137 lbs. to 167 lbs."

Remarks from his teammates, both football and wrestling, were summed up in the following statements made by Stehman's wrestling Co-Captain Stan Zeamer: "Paul is the hardest working athlete I've ever come in contact with. He gave everyone on the team an incentive to work harder and always thought of the team and team record before he thought of himself. He was the most perfectly conditioned wrestler. I never knew anyone who could wrestle the last ten seconds as strong as the first the way Stehman can. He gives his all all the way."

This is Paul Stehman, an excellent athlete and a great credit to Northwest Missouri State College. The Missourian staff joins his many fans in saying, "Hats off to Paul Stehman!"

Dean Koerble Explains Open Housing Terms

The law of supply and demand may cause headaches to students who are planning to live off campus next fall.

Several students who are 21 or older will be wanting to live in opening housing, and some householders may open their rooms to these students. Other students under 21 will have to live in either the residence halls or in approved housing. Therefore, the demand for both open and approved housing will be increased but the supply will remain approximately the same.

Dr. Charles E. Koerble, dean of students, has pointed out that housing lists have to be revised and added to annually. This means that a student who plans to live where a friend lived the past two years may be out of luck for next year, since such housing may no longer be available.

Hargrave Wins Title In Billiard Meet Playoff

James Hargrave defeated Bruce Turpin April 16 in the all-school intramural billiard championship playoff.

Hargrave had previously won the independent division by defeating Larry Chase. Turpin, the fraternity division champion, represented Tau Kappa Epsilon. There were 16 independent entries and 48 fraternity contestants.

MSC Students Coach Area Kid Wrestlers

Dave Rebori and Charles Lusso, MSC student-coaches, have been teaching wrestling skills to Maryville youth in Saturday morning classes at Lamkin Gymnasium under the supervision of Dr. Earl Baker, MSC physical education instructor.

The wrestling instructions were in preparation for the Kid's Wrestling Tournament held here April 15. The youngsters' training paid off when they defeated their opponents.

Bearcats Trounce Graceland; Even Outdoor Track Mark

The MSC track team evened its outdoor record at 1-1 for the season by overwhelming Graceland College last Tuesday 101-43 in a dual meet at Graceland.

The 'Cats won 4 of 7 field events and 8 of the 10 running events. Graceland's perennial champion, Mike Mattox, won the shotput and discus trying to stave off the Maryville onslaught.

MSC won the following places:

Field events: shotput, Tom Dahlhauser, second, 45 feet, 5 1/4 inches; discus, Jim Neal, second; Tom Dahlhauser, third, 134-7; triple jump, Dan Mohler, second, 21-11; pole vault, Larry Forgey and Fred Clifton tied for first 12 feet; high jump, Dave Hansen, first, 6-4; javelin, Charles Lusso, first; Steve Schottel, third, 179-2.

Running events: 440-yard relay, MSC (Frank Jorgensen, Steve Koroch, Steve McCluck-ey, Dan Mohler, 45.9); mile run, Charles Gilkison, first; Roger Stucki, second 4:26.5; 120-yard high hurdles, Frank Jorgensen, first; Dan Roe, second 15.3; 440-yard dash, Steve Koroch, first 52.7.

100-yard dash, Dan Mohler, second 10.4; 880-yard run, Stucki, first; Cliff Nelles, second, 3:57.6; 220-yard dash, Koroch, first; Dave Hansen, second; Steve McCluskey, third, 23.6; 440 intermediate hurdles, Bob Pickard, second; Jorgensen, third, 58.8; two-mile run, Gilkison, first; Nelles, second, 9:48.5; mile relay, MSC (Dave Catus, Dan Reed, Koroch, Dave Hansen, 3:31.3).

Schools, Industries Set April Interviews

Representatives from two Midwest schools and two business interviewers will be on MSC campus to confer with students about prospective positions on the following dates:

Education

April 22 . . . Richmond, Mo.

April 29 . . . Kankakee, Ill. Business

April 24 . . . American General Insurance Co.

April 29 . . . Missouri Division of Welfare

Students should call Mrs. Esther Sellers in the Field Service Office for an appointment for an interview.

Bell to Alert All Bearcats For Annual Day of Freedom

Yes, it's coming, Bearcats.

Some morning this spring the bell will ring out at 8:10 o'clock signaling that Walk-Out Day has finally arrived. This offers a chance for students to inject a little frolic into the mid-term drag by participating in the day's festivities.

As usual, a variety of games, entertainment, and mystery events have been planned by the Union Board. An added attraction during the morning frolic will be a battle of the bands. Each combo will also play for the evening dance.

All students who want to get into the midst of the fun festival are urged to sign up in the Union Board office before April 25 for the following events: Girls' canoe racing, boys' canoe jousting, girls' tug-of-war, couples' mystery events, and group mystery event (in which students may sign up individually or with a group of friends). Students are advised to wear plenty of clothing for the secret events.

Unlike last year's contests, real logs and canoes will be used in the games.

Be listening for the bell, it may surprise you.
